

Connecting to Transactional Reading Theory

HEAD: Readers should ask themselves

- 1. What surprised you?
- 2. What did the author think you already knew?
- 3. What changed, challenged, or confirmed your thinking?

In Your Heart

- What did this text help me to learn about myself?
- What did this text help me learn about others?
- How has this text changed my thinking about the world?
- How will my actions or feelings change as a result of this text?
- Does this text point me to any signposts in my own life? (tough questions. Aha moments, words of the wiser,)
